Short Course Descriptions for MA ELT Semester One Courses
(September-December 2023)

Course number, title and description	Tutor(s)
ELE 111: ELT in India India is a country that is societally and individually multilingual; but owing to colonisation and imperialism the teaching of English in India has been fraught with problems. This course will be both reflective and theoretical in its orientation. Students will be asked to reflect on their own language learning experiences and use that as a base to critique existing practices. We will also critically examine policy documents and theoretical articulations in the field	Ms. Madhumeeta Sinha
ELE 239: The Second Language Classroom The course will deal with the pedagogical aspects of second language teaching. The course will provide a good understanding of the new developments in the field that have a bearing on effective learning and teaching. These include research in teacher talk, learner behaviour and learning outcomes. Drawing on insights from theory and research, the treatment will concentrate on the pragmatics of classroom action. Possessed with a critical understanding of the theory and practice of classroom procedures, the participant will be able to enter an English language classroom with dependable knowledge and assuring confidence.	Prof. K. PadminiShankar
ELE 122: An Overview of Development of ELT Materials The course will introduce key terms such as curriculum, syllabus design and materials in ELT. This will be followed by an overview of perspectives on curriculum and syllabus design in line with the prominent second language teaching approaches. It will also discuss materials developed to teach ELT according to the different paradigms of language learning namely cognitive, naturalistic, communicative and social constructivism. Furthermore, it will expose students how different syllabuses emanating from these perspectives are put into practice in the form of teaching materials. So students will be acquainted with different types of material designs to teach listening, speaking, reading and writing along with vocabulary and grammar.	Dr. Mahananda Pathak

IMPORTANT INSTRUCTIONS FOR MA ELT PROGRAMME: FIRST SEMESTER ONLINE COURSE REGISTRATIONS

- All MA ELT students you have to do the three compulsory domain-specific courses – ELE 111, ELE 121, and ELE 122. Each course is for five credits.
- You also need to choose one course as interdisciplinary course worth 5 credits from any other related discipline. For this you can refer to the MA time tables from the university website to choose this fourth course. Alternatively, you can do a foreign language like French (which is indicated in your time table above).
- You also need to choose a multidisciplinary course from the MOOCS platform for a minimum of 3 credits (or more) in semester one.
- You need to do four courses worth 20 credits in the first semester from the courses offered by the university.
- Ensure that the class timings of the interdisciplinary course do not clash with the timing of any of the domain courses of the MA ELT programme on offer for this semester.
- You have to register online for the course(s) offered by the university.
- For any academic queries you can contact me, your programme coordinator: Prof. Lina Mukhopadhyay:
